PREFACE

THIS volume represents the eleventh attempt to catalogue all those who have attended Princeton Theological Seminary. The first list appeared in 1818. It gave merely the names of all former students and their location and work. With each successive edition, however, more detailed data was given regarding each man so that when the last catalogue appeared in 1909 the compiler, the Rev. Joseph H. Dulles, thought it appropriate to entitle it not a General Catalogue but rather a Biographical Catalogue. This new edition will be found to be substantially the same as that of 1909, plus the new material and records that have accumulated over a period of almost a quarter of a century.

A few minor changes should be noted, however. Instead of recording the special and graduate students in two separate lists at the end of the Catalogue according to the year of matriculation, they have been incorporated in the body of the book, the special students appearing in the second group of the class with which they would have graduated had they taken the full course; the graduate students in the second group of the year in which they did their first graduate study at Princeton Seminary. Thus, in every class will appear two groups, listed alphabetically. In the first group are those who completed the full course, in the second the special students, the graduate students, and those who did not complete the full course.

In listing the faculty a brief biographical sketch of those not alumni of the Seminary has been added. For data regarding all other professors, the reader is referred to the Index of Alumni.

Many of the old abbreviations have been changed and these, together with the new, are given in a single index.

Because of the limited space and time no attempt has been made to present statistical summaries at the end of the volume.

Since twenty-four years have elapsed since the last catalogue was issued the compilation of the present work has been attended with many difficulties. It is a matter of great regret that we have not been able to locate all the alumni. Every effort was put forth to secure full and accurate data regarding each man. Most of the information has been gleaned from circulars returned by the alumni. A great many, however, failed to reply and the compiler has had to rely upon the church year books of the various denominations, the biographical catalogues of other institutions, press clippings and reports from acquaintances. This is greatly deplored, but it was unavoidable. In such an extensive and detailed compilation many errors will no doubt appear. A correction of these will be greatly appreciated.

In recording facts regarding more than seventy-five hundred men the question of space becomes of paramount importance. All who matriculated are included in the volume, except those, of course, who remained but a few days. In most cases only the following facts are given: name, place and date of birth, college and year of graduation, seminary and years attended, ordination, fields of service, military or Y. M. C. A. war service, honorary degrees and the year when Moderator of the General Assembly. No attempt has been made to list the writings of each man or the many honors that may have come to him. If the alumnus is no longer in the ministry the various business firms with which he may have been connected or the secondary schools in which he has taught are not indicated. He is simply listed as in business or teaching.

Towns and states and colleges in most cases are given the name which they bore when the student was connected with them. This practice has not been followed consistently, however, as the compiler has endeavored to comply, where possible, with the express preferences of the correspondents.

In case a college has taken the name University or vice versa it is designated throughout by its present name.

A denomination, state or country, once given is understood to continue until another is designated.

A single date appearing after the college attended indicates the year in which the Bachelor's degree was conferred. Departing from the practice of previous catalogues the Master of Arts degree secured "in course" is recorded, as is also the honorary M. A., when known. Dates for one's seminary course appear hyphenated. Where but one year is recorded the student remained but one semester or less.

A dash and period (—.) or a dash and semicolon (—; ) near the end of the record indicates that the service given continues until the present time.

A semi-colon and dash (;—) at the end of a record indicates that further information is wanting.

An asterisk (*) appears before the names of those who have died.

The compiler is deeply grateful for the cooperation he has received from the alumni, colleges and seminaries, pastors, Clerks of Presbyteries, Synods and other religious bodies. He is especially indebted to all the members of the administrative offices of the Seminary for their assistance.

ABBREVIATIONS

If a College, University or Seminary bears the same name of the town in which it is located, the name of the latter is not given.

If the only change in the name of an institution is the change from “College” to “University”, or vice versa, the Institution is listed here only as it is known at the present time.
