THE MOST CHARACTERISTIC LETTER OF GENERAL CHARLES LEE IN EXISTENCE.

527a Lee, Charles. General in the Revolutionary Army. "The Traitor." Autograph Letter, signed. 3 pages. Large folio. Berkley county, June 25, 1780, To James Monroe. Endorsed, in Monroe's chirography, "Gen<sup>1</sup> Ch: Lee."

This is the most remarkable letter of General Lee's in existence, and we think that in the perusal of the same our patrons will agree with us. It exhibits his extreme previshness and proneness in jumping at conclusions unless things were done as Charles Lee wished.

BERKLEY COUNTY, June ye 25th, 1780

My Dr Munroe—

I receiv'd two days ago your letter dated from Richmond upbraiding me for not writing. I do assure you that I have written twice immediately address'd to you, and a third time address'd to you conjointly with Mercer, but whether you have received 'em I cannot pretend to say, as amongst the many admirable qualities pervading the Inhabitants of this Continent, the noble ambition of opening evry letter, in order to obtain knowledge, is one of the most predominant—it is not always that I am master of pen ink and paper, and seldomer that I have an opportunity of assuring you how much and sincerely I am yours, or you may depend upon it that you shou'd receive these assurances very frequently, as without compliment there are few young men for whom I have a higher esteem and affection. I am extremely concern'd that Fortune has been so unkind as not to admit of your cultivating the talents which Nature has bestow'd on you to greater advantage than your present situation seems to promise, for in my opinion (but perhaps I am a prejudiced man) the study of topographical Law (unless daily corrected by other more liberal studies) is a most horrid narrower of the mind; and you, as you justly complain, have not the proper books for this necessary correction. If I remain on the Continent nothing will give me greater pleasure, or more flatter my ambition than to communicate my ideas and assist you with all the means in my power in your pursuit of polite letters,-and if any circumstances arise to make me alter my present plan, I hope it may be so con-triv'd that We may be much together. Your present Assembly, I have many reasons to believe, is compos'd of most wretched materials, but wretched as it is, I have as many reasons to believe, that it is one of the least abominable on the Continent-in fact the power in every State is fall'n into the very We have now neither Monarchy Aristocracy nor Democracy worst hands. if it is anything, it is rather a Mac-ocracy, by which I mean that a Banditti of low Scotch-Irish who are either themselves imported Servants or the immediate descendants of imported Servants are the Lord's Paramount and in such wild beastly hands as these respublica diutius stare non potest. God knows what is to become of us; I possibly see with a jaundic'd eye, but I am myself fully persuaded that after some months or at furthest a couple of years anarchy and confusion an absolute Tyranny will be the conclusion of the Piece; but whether the Tyrant will be foreign or domestick is out of the reach of my foresight. What do you think of the policy or virtue of Congress, in inviting, (or if not invited) in admitting a large Body of French Troops into our bosom. How are we to get rid of 'em ?—is there an instance in history of a strong nation sending an Army for the protection of an impotent one, when the Protectors have not ultimately stripp'd or attempted to strip the Protected of their liberties? You have I am sure read the history of Britain, and must be acquainted with the conduct of our Saxon Ancestors. You have likewise probably read the history of Charles the fifth and Philip the second, and of course must know that the Armies of Germans Italians and Spaniards introduced under the pretext of protecting the low Countries against the French were employ'd to enslave these very low Countries; and that afterwards vice versa the French call'd in to protect em from the tyranny of the Spaniards and Italians attempted to accomplish the very same purposes They were call'd in to defeat—in short the measure is so very big with mischief so repugnant to the first axioms of policy, that I cannot perswade myself but that those who have acquiesced in it must have been brib'd out of the little sense They set out with—but I am warm'd by the subject into a tedious poitical Essay—it has been reveal'd to Mrs. Gates in a dream that S. Carolina is of not the least importance which revelation She has communicated to the General to his unspeakable comfort; the General has communicated it to a McAllaster and the other Commissaries, who have comforted the whole Country with the glad tidings, and it is resolv'd by a Committee of Whigs, that whoever insinuates that S. Carolina and the Army taken in it, are of the least consequence, is ipso facto a damn'd Toryupon my word I pity Gates. He is an honest man, and has many good qualities and that Daemoness his wife occasions him to make a very ridicu-C. LEE. lous figure-adieu, God bless you.

P S. I suppose an Army of Russians will like wise be introduc'd as well as an Army of French, and then the Continent will be a blessed theatre of War and desolation; one side or other must be victorious, or it must be a drawn battle, if the former happens, the Victor will dictate what measures He pleases, and if the latter happens a treaty of partition will take place—upon the whole it is a damnable measure.

GENERAL LEE'S RESIGNATION.

527b Original Contemporary Broadside, issued by General Charles Lee, tendering his resignation to the Right Hon. Lord Viscount Barrington, his Majesty's Secretary at War; dated Philadelphia, June 22, 1775. 4to, uncut edges. Size, 11 x 8 inches.

Printed by John Anderson, New York, [1775]

This is one of the only two copies known of this interesting historical broadside, and, we may venture to say, the finer of the two, as it is as clean as on the day of issue; with untrimmed edges.

"General LEE'S RESIGNATION,"

To the Right Honourable Lord Viscount Barrington,

His Majesty's Secretary at War.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22, 1775.

My Lord-

ALTHOUGH I can by no means subscribe to the opinion of divers people in the world, that an officer on half pay is to be considered in the service, yet I think it a point of a delicacy to pay a deference to this opinion, erroneous and absurd as it is. I therefore apprise your Lordship in the most public and solemn manner, that I do renounce my half-pay, from the date hereof. At the same time I beg leave to assure your Lordship, that whenever it shall please his Majesty to call me forth to any honourable service against the natural hereditary enemies of our country, or in defense of his just rights and dignity, no man will obey the righteous summons with more zeal and alacrity than myself; but the present measures seem to me so absolutely subversive of the rights and liberties of every individual subject, so destructive to the whole empire at large, and ultimately so ruinous to his Majesty's own person, dignity and family, that I think myself obliged in conscience as a Citizen, Englishman, and Soldier of a free state, to exert my utmost to defeat them. I most devoutly pray to Almighty God to direct his Majesty into measures more consonant to his interest and honour, and more conducive to the happiness and glory of his people.

I am, my Lord,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

CHARLES LEE.

PREFACE

THE late COLONEL CHARLES COLCOCK JONES, JR., LL.D., who gathered this valuable and extraordinary collection of Autograph Letters, Historical Papers and Engraved Portraits and Views, was born in Savannah, Georgia, October 28, 1831; studied law at the Harvard University, from which he graduated in 1855. In 1860 he was elected Mayor of his native city; refusing a re-nomination he immediately entered the Confederate Army and served with distinction through the war as an officer of artillery, doing duty in the capacity of Chief of Artillery for the Military District of Georgia and the Third Military District of South Carolina. On the termination of hostilities he removed to New York city, where he resumed the practice of the law. During the twelve years of his residence in that city he contributed largely, in a literary way, towards the elucidation of occurrences in the history of his country, writing several interesting works on the history of the Indians of Georgia, on important events in the Revolution and of the War for the Union, on Revolutionary heroes, etc., and in his researches for material in compiling these works he was naturally led into the field of autograph collecting.

Returning to his native State in 1877, he established his home at Montrose, in the village of Summerville, near Augusta, where, up to the time of his death, July 19, 1893, he devoted his time to historical researches and in the collection of important historical papers and autograph letters of the eminent characters connected with the Revolutionary War and the State of Georgia.

The result of this task is fully portrayed in this catalogue, in which will be found a set of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, including the rare names of Button Gwinnett and Thomas Lynch, Jr.; also the series of the members of the Continental Congress, signers of the Constitution, members of the Constitutional Convention, Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the United States, Rulers and Governors of Georgia; Chief Justices, Associate Justices and Attorneys-general of the United States;

The letters, wherever possible, were illustrated with the rarest and best portraits obtainable of the writers, which, for the benefit of collectors of engraved portraits, I have catalogued separately.

The engraved views of New York, Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Mount Vernon, Niagara Falls and other interesting localities throughout the United States, are the most important that has ever come under my observation; whilst among the broadsides will be found many that relate to the events of the Revolution, which are of the utmost importance and of great rarity.

The catalogue also enumerates many rare maps, as well as quite a large collection of Georgia and South Carolina Continental money, containing many rare varieties, in unusual good condition.

The collection is too large and varied for me to draw special attention to any item, there being so many of importance. I have therefore made an index of the whole, and a glance at it will more fully convey an idea of its character.

6 Adams, Samuel. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. Boston, May 17, 1766. To William Cheekley. With address.

***"I am very sollicitous about your Happiness. *** You are seeking it in the Marriage State, allow me to tell you that you will entirely miss of it there, or find it in its greatest Perfection, in this Life. There is indeed nothing that will secure Happiness to us in any State but Virtue, or to speak in the too much exploded Language, Christianity." * *

Very fine specimen.

7 Adams, John. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 4 pages. Quincy, December 2, 1815. To Rev. Dr. Morse.

A very fine specimen, and a very remarkable letter, giving a short history of the Church of England in America. In speaking of its doings in his native town, he says :--

"This North Precinct of the large and ancient Town of Braintree, now called Quincy. in which I was born and bred, and in which my Father, Grandfather, Great Grandfather and Great Grandfather lived, died and lay buried, was the very Focus of Episcopal Bigotry, Intrigue, Intollerance and Persecution. I could introduce here a Dramatis Personæ of Names, which I will not now commit to paper, and entertain you with Plots and Intrigues, which would compose a Comedy, equal to any of Moliere or Shakespeare, if Corruption, Prostitution and Dupery can compose a Comedy." * * *

41 Carroll, Charles, of Carrollton. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to Baltimore, December 11, 1821. To Major-General Harper. With address.

Sir I have not been to Hampton unic I note to you. I purpose to go thither in a few days, and will then endeavoirs to get perther information concerning my Massifulor negros. The next of his have now a negal to the administration but it seems to me that, unless they appear here, it cannot be committed to them; neither can it I be beleieve be regularly committed to unother in trust for them; neither will the court in my pinion, without a suit, compet the persons in possession to deliver the megnes to their agens. to that I would advise you, for the reason I mentioned before, to procure what is necessary to support the claim of the heir. The bill you sent me will en. able one to form one in the will of mer. Hamilton against Armsbong in the general court. The mode of proceedure you are pursuing in Carolina seems very proper. I am, with un. feigned respects your humblesowant bor.

"I send you, however, the next best thing, which is his undoubted handwriting. This is taken from one of the Volumes of Swift's works, published in 1766, which he purchased in London, while he was studying Law in the Temple. I know this to be genuine from the fact that I observe that autograph-seekers in my father's time have obtained from the same source, the name. As I said to you, I think, in a former letter, he never signed the name Thomas Lynch Jr. but once in his life, and that was to the Declaration of Independence, I suppose for the purpose of informing the British who was the right man to be hung; his father of the same name being then alive and a member of the Continental Congress at the time of the signing." Etc.

Mr. Hamilton inherited Thomas Lynch's library.

56 Middleton, Arthur. Letter, signed, on part of 4to. sheet. May 20, 1782. Signed also and written by David Ramsay, member of the Old Congress from South Carolina.

FROM GEORGIA.

57 Gwinnett, Button. Document, signed. Large folio. April 25, 1770.

Mortgage, by way of release of Button Gwinnett to Edward Mease, on two large folio sheets, one containing the signature of Button Gwinnett [BUTTON (seal) GWINNETT].

58 Hall, Lyman. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. Mont-Ville, Burke Co., September 14, 1790. To Governor Edward Telfair. With address.

Resigning his commission as Judge of the Inferior Court.

59 Hall, Lyman. Document, signed. Folio. 4 pages. Augusta, May 31, 1783.

Articles of convention between Lyman Hall, Governor of Georgia, General John Twiggs, Colonel Elijah Clarke, Colonel William Few, Honorable Edward Tellair and General Samuel Elbert, Commissioners, and Tarpin, son of the great warrior, Che-qua-ena; and other Indian Chiefs of the Cherokee Tribe. All in the handwriting of George Walton, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and witnessed by him and Andrew McLean. Signed also by Lyman Hall, General John Twiggs, Colonel Elijah Clark, Colonel William Few, Honorable Edward Telfair, General Samuel Elbert, and the marks of the various Indian Chiefs. Exceedingly interesting.

60 Walton, George. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. Savannah, May 8, 1795. Fine.

61 Thomson, Charles. First Secretary of Congress. Document, signed. Folio. In Congress, October 10, 1780.

Resolution of Congress in reference to lands that may be ceded to the United States by the different States.

In the above sixty-one lots will be found a full set of autograph letters and documents, signed, of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. All have been beautifully inlaid to large 4to size—11 x 14 inches—and, where the papers were likely to be damaged by handling, they have been carefully "laid down" (backed). The collection, as a whole, is a remarkable one, and contains many beautiful specimens, including several written in 1776, the year of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. In the latter portion of the catalogue will be found the valuable portraits that the late Mr. Jones collected for the purpose of accompanying the letters, but which have been, for certain reasons, catalogued separately.

Delegates to the Constitutional Convention of 1787 who Signed the Constitution of the United States.

62 Langdon, John. From New Hampshire. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. Philadelphia, June 23, 1795. To Nicholas Gilman. With franked address.

"We have not yet come to a Determination upon the Treaty, hope we shall finish this week. I believe I shall not agree to the whole, what part I know not. You know I am [a] great man, however nothing can be said, with Certainty. Secresy must be observed."

- 63 Gilman, Nicholas. From New Hampshire. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. Washington, March 12, 1814.
- 64 Gorham, Nathaniel. From Massachusetts. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. 2 pages. Boston, March 25, 1788.

"I wish you had been in better spirits and had been able to use stronger language respecting the new Government. We must hope for the best. Do give me every information you can, especially if the prospect brightens.

"I am informed that Mr. Madison is gone to Virginia, do let me know whether he is chosen—and how it is with Col. Mason." Etc.

- 65 Gorham, Nathaniel. From Massachusetts. Autograph Document, signed. Folio. Westfield, April 25, 1795.
- 66 King, Rufus. From Massachusetts. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. London, May 8, 1800. To Governor Jackson.

"Immediately after the receipt of your Excellency's Letter, I commenced an inquiry for the Georgia Records, which were removed to this Country during the late war. It is needless to repeat the disappointments that I have experienced in the prosecution of this inquiry; let it suffice to say that I have received the most ready assistance from the British Government; and that a large chest of these Papers has been found in the office in which the Papers of the late Board of Trade are deposited. I went myself today to see it, and shall immediately renew my application for its delivery. With this Chest are two others supposed to contain the Records of East and West Florida, and I have some reason to believe that the Georgia and Florida Papers have been mixed." Etc.

67 King, Rufus. From Massachusetts. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. London, July 2, 1800. To Governor Jackson.

"I have received from this Government a large trunk and Chest of Georgia Papers, which are now on board the Ship Independent, soon to sail from this port for Savannah." Etc. 68 Johnson, William Samuel. From Connecticut. Letter, signed. 4 pages. New York, April 12, 1786. Signed also and written by Stephen Mix Mitchell, member of of the Old Congress, for Connecticut. To Governor Griswold.

"Our affairs seem to indicate the approach of some great crisis. Our Trade in a very distracted situation, Britain watching for some opportune season to revenge her smarts, the fickle Indian nations ready to join those who can best supply their wants, & jealous of the approach of the Americans so near their Territories; the states unwilling or neglecting to adopt almost any one Measure which can be proposed to them by Congress so as to act jointly & effecaciously for mutual Benefit." Etc.

- 69 Johnson, William Samuel. From Connecticut. Document, signed. Folio. Stratford, April 5, 1773. Signed also by Agur Tomlison, Izrahiah Wetmore and Daniel Judson.
- 70 Sherman, Roger. From Connecticut. Signer of the Declaration of Independence. Autograph Document, signed. 4to. Hartford, September 4, 1777. Signed also by John Lawrence; together with an extract from the Minutes of Congress, October 2, 1777, in the handwriting of and signed by Charles Thomson, Secretary of Congress.

Fine specimen.

- 72 Hamilton, Alexander. From New York. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. New York, April 20, 1790. To A. van Vechter. With address.

"I continue in the wish that the argument for a new trial may be postponed till July. But lest this should not be practicable I shall by the next post send you the papers & a written argument or rather materials for one. In the meantime obtain delay. Burr who is charged with these causes by the Plaintiff sets off to day."

73 Hamilton, Alexander. Letter, signed. Folio. Philadelphia, August 18,1794. "To his Excellency, the Governor of Georgia."

"I am directed by the President to write you on the subject of those french privateers fitted out in our ports, which you have heretofore been informed were to be denied asylum within the United States except upon condition of being dismantled of their military equipment." Etc.

 74 Livingston, William. From New Jersey. Brigadier-General in the Revolutionary War and Governor of New Jersey. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. 2 pages. Elizabethtown, May 9, 1788. To Jedediah Morse.

107 Jones, Willie. From North Carolina. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 3 pages. Philadelphia, October 1, 1780.

"Mr. Hill and myself flattered ourselves that we should have received, ere this, an account of the proceedings of our late Assembly, and their sentiments, as well as your private Opinion, respecting the Conduct of Gen'l Gates. From the Circumstances of his Conduct, particularly his rapid Retreat, and the length of it, and some hints in one of his Letters, and Strictures in others, it appears to us that Gen'l Gates can no longer continue in that Command with Satisfaction to himself, or with prospect of rendering essential Service to the United States. We hope your next favour will throw some Light on the Subject.

"The fleet which was seen on the Coast, mentioned in my last, proves to be Rodney with IO Sail of the Line. Since his arrival at Sandy Hook, a large Embarkation of Troops has been going forward at New York, and it was industriously reported to be destined against the French Fleet at Rhode Island, or against Virginia, or both; but the capture of Col. André, followed by General Arnold's Flight to the Enemy, has developed the true Intention of the Armament." * * "The new Maryland Regiment, which is complete in Number of Men, marched by order of Gen'l Washington from this place, about a week ago, to join the Southern Army." * * * "Present my Compliments to Mrs. Nash." Etc.

108 Rutledge, John. From South Carolina. Governor of South Carolina. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. Charleston, September 5, 1779. To Governor Casswell.

> "I have the pleasure to inform you of Count d'Estaign's arrival on the Coast of Georgia, with a considerable naval and military force. I hope soon to transmit you a successful acc't of our intended operations, but notwithstanding the present appearance of things, it is the opinion of Gen'l Lincoln, as well as mine, that the Troops intended to be marched from your State to this should proceed as quickly as they can."

109 Pinckney, Charles Cotesworth. From South Carolina. Major-General in the Revolutionary War. Autograph Document, signed. Folio. 2 pages. September 19, 1795.

A copy of the Proclamation of General Washington, recognizing Victor Dupont as Consul from France to the States of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia; with the certificate of General Pinckney as to this being a correct copy of the original; this being the one sent to the Governor of Georgia.

- 110 Pinckney, Charles Cotesworth. From South Carolina. Autograph Letter. signed. 4to. 2 pages. Charleston, July 11, 1817. To Messrs. Williamson and De Villèrs.

Signed as commissioners for settling the boundary lines between South Carolina and Georgia.

112 Pinckney, Charles. From South Carolina. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. Charleston, June 17, 1789. To Honorable George Walton.

* * * "I am pleased however that an opportunity is now afforded to the commissioners to evince that the United States are willing to establish a peace upon the solid basis of Justice & an attention to the rights of both parties. A treaty upon these principles can alone secure that peace and intercourse which are so much to be desired by all the disinterested friends to the wel fare of each."

- 113 Pinckney, Charles. From South Carolina. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. No place, no date. To General Read.

- 116 Few, William. From Georgia. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 3 pages. New York, May 26, 1804. To Edward Telfair.
- 117 Few, William. From Georgia. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. New York, January 29, 1786. To the Governor of Georgia. Signed also by William l'ierce, a member of the Constitutional Convention.

"As Congress, from the delinquency of many of the States, have not yet been able to meet, we can give you no public or material information; at least none that, at this time, concerns the Union.

"We are sorry to inform you that the Government of Massachusetts is greatly disturbed by a serious faction which now prevails in the State."

118 Baldwin, Abraham. From Georgia. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. New York, June 5, 1788. To Seaborn Jones.

"We have just got the good news from South Carolina, Virginia is now in session, we feel very doubtful about them. This State meets 17th inst., their members are chosen, and are said by good judges to be antifederal nearly 2 to I. This City is almost all federal, the Governor who is their champion of opposition, had but 134 votes here. New Hampshire meets again on the same day, but they acted so ill before, I dare not hope much good from them."

147 Wayne, Anthony. From Georgia. Brigadier-General in the Revolutionary War. "Mad Anthony." Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 6 pages. Philadelphia, September 3, 1791. To Governor Edward Telfair.

"Before this comes to hand, you will undoubtedly see an account of the escape of the Royal family of France from Paris, & of their recapture at Varennes, about sixty miles from the Emperial Dominions. It was received at this place by the President and heads of Departments like a shock of Electricity—for it appears that America is but much interested in the event (should it be unfavorable to Liberty). Perhaps you are not unacquainted with this circumstance.

"This disagreeable business, together with the speculation Mania, seems to absorb every other idea. However the scrip bubble has burst. The infatuation of the moment run bank stock from par to three hundred & twenty-five  $\Psi$ ct, so far above the real value, as to injure a great number of the most cautious,—who did not attempt to become adventurers until near the last hour of the Mania when—being strangers—they were taken in ! Apropos— I had it in contemplation & nearly determined to take Three hundred shares when at par, on account of the State of Georgia. Delegates from other States have taken to a considerable amount—but they were instructed to do so." Etc.

150 Wahington, George. First President of the United States, and Commander-in-chief of the Revolutionary Army. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. Mount Vernon, July 1, 1794. To Colonel Deakins.

"The letter with which you were pleased to favor me, dated the 12th Ult'o, I received at Georgetown on my way to this place.

"I am much obliged to you for your ready compliance with my request, and for the trouble you have taken to examine into the trespasses which have been committed on my part of Woodstock Manner. The footing on which you have placed the collection & deposit of the Rents, on my behalf, is very agreeable to me, & I thank you for the assurance that you will have an eye to my interest in your neighbourhood.

"I should greatly prefer the cultivation of Wheat to Tobacco, on those Lands; and I should have thought myself happy in having such a tenant as Mr. O'Neil; but it is long since I have formed a fixed resolution never to let land to any one who does not live on it, but adjoining thereto; because from experience I have found in all these cases that my land has always been pressed hard to save the [sic] there own; and of the improvements which it ought to receive from the Stock, Litter, &c., it has been robbed for the benefit of the other. I mean by no means to suggest that this would be the case with Mr. O'Neil; but to shew the principle on w'ch my resolution has been founded. Besides it might be inconvenient perhaps to the Tenants that are on the land to be dispossesed. With great esteem,

" Washington, Jan. 15, 1802.

"Gentlemen:

"The confidence which the Senate and Representatives of the State of Georgia are pleased to repose in my conduct, and their felicitations on my election to the Chief Magistracy, are testimonies which, coming from the collected councils of the State, encourage efforts to deserve them in future, and hold up the reward most valued by me.

"State-rights, and State-sovereignties, as recognized by the constitution, are an integral and essential part of our great political fabric; they are bound up by a common ligament with those of the National government, and form with it one system, of which the Constitution is the law and the life. A sacred respect to that instrument therefore becomes the first interest and duty of all.

" Your reliance on the talents and virtues of our republic as concentrated in the federal legislature, that the public good will be its end & the constitution its rule, is assuredly well placed; and we need not doubt of that harmony which is to depend on its justice." * * *

Lincoln, Abraham. Sixteenth President of the United States—1861–65. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. 2 pages. Springfield, January 20, 1840. To Honorable John S. Stuart.

" Dear Stuart :---

"Yours of the 15th Inst. is rec'd. It is the first from you for a great while. You wish the news from here. The Legislature is in session yet, but has done nothing of importance. The following is my guess as to what will be done: The Internal Improvement System will be put down in a lump without benefit of clergy The Bank will be resustated with some trifling modification. Whether the Canal will go ahead or stop is very doubtful. Whether the State House will go ahead depends upon the law already in force.

"A proposition made in the House today to throw off to the Teritory of Wisconsin about 14 of our Northern counties decided—Ayes 11, Noes 70.

"Be sure to send me as many copies of the life of Harrison as you can spare from other uses.

"Be very sure to procure and send me the Senate Journal of New York of September 1814. I have a newspaper article which says that that document proves that Van Buren voted against raising troops in the last war. And in general send me every thing you think will be a good "war-club," with address.

"The nomination of Harrison takes first rate. You know I am never sanguine but I believe we will carry the state.

"The chance of doing so, appears to me 25 per cent better than it did for you to beat Douglass. A great many of the Grocery sort of Van Buren men, as formerly, are out for Harrison. Our Irish Blacksmith Gregory, is for Harrison. I believe I may say, that all our friends think the chance of carrying the state very good.

"You have heard that the Whigs and Loco had a political discussion shortly after the meeting of the Legislature. Well, I made a big speech, which is in progress of printing in pamphlet form. To enlighten you and the rest of the world, I shall send you a Copy when it is finished.

"I can't think of anything else now.

"Your friend, as ever,

"A. LINCOLN."

"Dear Sir:

"I received yours of the 16th in due time, and was much gratified to hear of the democracy in old Greene moving off in good earnest upon the presidential question.—It will require an extraordinary effort to elect Mr. Vanburen in the approaching contest over Mr. Clay.—The Whigs are determined to make a desperate fight and are making all the necessary preparation for action.—To day the 21st rule, as it is commonly called, was repealed by a majority of 20 votes; it was done by a union of Whigs and democrats. —It is feared by some of our friends, that this day's work will drive the South ern democracy off from Mr. V—buren entirely.—The repeal of the 21 rule and the receipt of the resolution passed by the Massachusetts' Legislature, in effect threatening a dissolution of the Union, if Texas is annexed to the United States, has set the Southern delegation in a blaze.—I tell you, things are in a bad condition for us at this time—if something is not done to produce harmony in our ranks, defeat is certain. Can we make a better run with Cass or not, write and let me know. There is an under current here, at this time in favor of Cass upon the ground of availability.—What think you of it, will it do or not.—You complain of my not redeeming my pledge.— The reason is obvious, there was nothing to write about more than you saw in your papers, and I merely write now to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, knowing you do not wish to read a letter about nothing, I shall conclude this,—Gen'l Howard from Indiana is in the city.—It is thought here by some that Gen'l Alex Anderson will be sent as minister to Mexico.—There is rumor in the City, that an agent has reached here clothed with powers ample, in relation to the annexation of Texas to the United States."    With portrait, on India paper, by O'Neill.
- 511 Greene, Nathaniel. Major-General in the Revolutionary War. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. 4 pages. Headquarters, July 11, 1782. To William Ellery.

"We have many more difficulties to struggle with in this country than you to the Northward can readily conceive of. More may be expected of us than we can perform. All shall be done that is in my power to effect, but alas our means are small!

"There is an appearance of a speedy evacuation of Savannah and some preparations in Charlestown which indicate an approaching evacuation, but I am afraid the preparations are only to contract their lines. I wish the enemy out of this country for many private as well as public reasons.

"What will the change of british administration produce? Some people expect much good will result from it. I confess I am at a loss to imagine how, unless the british army has orders to leave us, and I think that is hardly probable as the new ministry avow an intention to prosecute the war against their European enemies. Count de Grass's late misfortune will be attended with very disagreeable consequences. It is one of those evils however great in itself, will still involve greater."

512 Greene, Nathaniel. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. Headquarters, October 20, 1782. To Governor Martin.

513 Greene, Nathaniel. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 2 pages. No place, no date. To William Gibbons.

"I am in distress, subjected to it from my engagements for the ease and relief of this country. I dont wish to complain but I ought not to suffer. I have felt much mortification but as my motives were just and the consequences unavoidable it is cruel hard upon me to feel both loss and censure. My only consolation I have served the people if I have perplexed myself. No man who has the least knowledge of our finance but must see the cruelty of our situation. An army to feed and nothing to do it with. I could not refuse to engage my private fortune for the same people I had so often exposed my life to serve and trust to the generosity of the public for redress if I became a sufferer. But to suffer both in fortune and reputation for an act imposed upon me by public necessity carries both cruelty and injustice with it. But if God spares my life but a few years I am in hopes to triumph over all these difficulties, and then I shall not fail to remember those who have obliged me in the hours of my distress. I hope to bear my misfortunes like a man but I cannot help feeling them." Etc.

514 Habersham, John. Major in the First Continental Regiment of Georgia. Acting Governor of Georgia; member of the United States Congress, etc. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. Shoulder Bone, October 30, 1786. To Brigadier-General Twiggs. With address.

"From late advices from the War department it appears that twelve or fifteen thousand troops were to have been embarked from Ireland early in Sept. last for the conquest of Louisiana. The source from whence this information is derived entitles it to implicit confidence, and dictate to me the necessity of immediately calling upon the whole resources offered me for the protection of the district assigned me." Etc.

524 Kalb, Baron de. Major-General in the Revolutionary Army. Killed at the Battle of Camden. Autograph Letter (in English), signed. 4to. 2 pages. Camp, Deep River, Wilcox's Iron Works, July 10, 17—. To Major-General Caswell. With address.

"I this moment receved the letter from G'l Rutherford of which I inclose a Copy, but M. Spencer did not deliver it himself, so I do not know what particulars he had to communicate.

" It is the opinion of a Board of G'l and field Off's of this Camp to move rather towards Coxe's instead to Cole's untill Provisions can be better provided than has been hitherto, from which place I may equally turn to Peedee or Salesbury as I mentioned to you in my yesterday's letter, if the movement of the Enemy or the Circumstances of our Supplies will admit of or require it.

"Should be glad to hear how far you marched your Troops and whether you think or have any Intelligence to be relied on, what Provisions we might get at Cole's or Peedee and Vicinity. I wished you would Correspond on that Subject with Col. Marion whom I have send to Coles' bridge with a Small party of South Carolina Volonteers, for the purpose of getting intelligence and Supplies.

"I could not as yet get for two days Provisions on hand and Should want at least for eight to march towards Peedee by Cole's.

"I have the honor to be with great respect,

" Dear General.

Your most obedient hble servant,

" Major-General Caswell.

" The Honble.

BARON DE KALB.

- 614 Middleton, Henry. President of the Continental Congress, October 22, 1774. Letter, signed. Folio. 2 pages. Philadelphia, July 1, 1775. The letter written and signed by Thomas Lynch, and also signed by Christopher Gadsden, John Rutledge, members of the Old Congress, and Edward Rutledge, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

"Gentlemen-

"By directions of the Continental Congress we have sent the Vessell by which this goes to procure from you a quantity of Gun-Powder for the use of the Armies actually in the field for the Service of America. The frequent & severe Skirmishes in the Neighbourhood of Boston have so exhausted magazines that an immediate supply is absolutely necessary.

"We entreat you to purchase all that can be bought in Town, & to despatch this Vessel with it for this Place as soon as possible, together with as much as can be spared out of the Public Stock without Danger to your own Safety.

"Should there be any damaged Powder on Hand, please send it also, as it may be recovered here.

"By one of the Resolutions inclosed to the General committee you'll see that it is recommended to the Southern Colonies to secure all the Salt Petre that can be got as well from the Stores as from private Persons, which, as you have no Powder Mills erected or Persons skilled in making Gun Powder, we would advise may be sent to be manufactured here.

"Should you be able to send more than four Thousand Weight of Powder we wou'd wish the overplus may be sent by some other oportunity.

"In order to prevent Suspicion we have sent — Bushels of Indian Corn on this Vessel which may be sold or exchanged for Rice, in which the Casks of Powder may be concealed so, perhaps, as to prevent Suspicion, should she unhappily be unable to avoid being overtaken by a Cruizer.

" The utmost secrecy and Despatch are absolutely necessary.

"As large Quantities of Powder will be wanted we strongly recommend that you continue to import all that you can, and think it probable that large Quantity's might be got from the Government of Havana as we can find no application there from any of the Colonies.

789 Duché, Rev. Jacob. Chaplain of the Continental Congress. Autograph Letter, signed. 4to. 13 pages. Philadelphia, October 8, 1777. To General George Washington.

The Rev. Jacob Duché, author of this letter, was rector of Christ Church, Philadelphia. He made the opening prayer at the First Congress, September 7, 1774, but resigned in October following on account of the determination of the colonies to separate from Great Britain. When the British took possession of Philadelphia, he became alarmed at the gloomy aspects of affairs (which is really the cause which induced him to forsake the patriots), and wrote this letter to General Washington, under date of October 8th, 1777, urging him to follow his example, and at the head of his army compel Congress to retrace its steps.

What has become of the identical letter sent to Washington is not

790 War of 1812. Letters from the Secretary of the Navy of the United States, to Captain David Porter, from July 26, 1808, to September 28, 1812. Folio and 4to.

44 pieces

This very interesting series of official letters, on the eve of and during the early part of the second war with Great Britain, includes two letters signed by Robert Smith, Secretary of the Navy; five Autograph Letters, signed, addressed and franked by Paul Hamilton, Secretary of the Navy; thirty letters, signed and franked by Paul Hamilton; three letters, signed by Paul Hamilton, and four Autograph Letters, signed and addressed by C. W. Goldsborough, Acting Secretary of the Navy. They all relate to periods, during Captain Porter's career as Commander of the Frigate "Essex," and contain the various orders issued from the Navy Department during the early stages of the War, as to his cruising, victories, prize money, etc. From the letter of June 9, 1810, we quote the following :---

"You, like every patriotic American, have observed & deeply feel the injuries & insults heaped on our Country by the two great Belligerents of Europe, & you must also believe, that (calculating by the past) from neither are we to expect either liberality or justice, but on the contrary no opportunity will be lost of adding to the outrages, to which, for years, we have been subjected, amongst these stands most conspicuous, the inhuman and dastardly

If this Litter should find you in council or in the field, before you read another Sentince, I beg you to take the fish opportunity of retiring- and weighing its im= =portant contents. you are perfectly acquainted with the part I formaily took in the present unhappy Contest.~ Iwas indeed, among the first to bear my public Testimony against having any recourse to threats, or indulging a thought of an armed opposition. The Current however was too strong for my feeble efforts to resist. I wishes to follow my countreymen as far only as virtue and the Rightcoursefs of their cause would permit me. I was however prevailed upon, among the rest of my clen: scal Brethren in this city, to gratify the prefsing desires of my fellow-Citizens- by preaching a Sermon to the 2? Battalion . I was prefses to publish this Sermon and re-Eluctantly consented. From a personal attachment of near 20 years standing and a high respect for your Character in private as well as publick life, Itook the liberty of dedicating this Sermon to you . - I had your affectionate thanks for my performance in a Letter wherein was expressed, in the most delieate & obliging individual to address himself to you on a subject of such magni = tude, or to say what measures would best secure the interest & welfare of a whole continent. The friendly and favorable opinion you have always expressed for me emboldens me to undertake it; and which has qually added to the Wight of this motive, I have been strongly imprefeed with a sense of duty upon the Occasion, which left my conscience un= casy and my heart afflicted still I fully discharged it. I am no Enthusiast - the cause is new and singular to me, but I could not enjoy one moments place till this Letter was written. With the most ardent prayers for your spiritual, as well as temporal welfare - I am, your most obedient and humble Friend and Servant Jacob Duche attack on our frigate 'Chesapeake,' an outrage, which prostrated the flag of our Country and has imposed on the American people, cause of ceaseless mourning. That same spirit which originated & has refused atonement for this act of brutal injustice, exists still with Great Britain, and from France like wise we have no reason to expect any regard for our rights. What has been perpetrated may again be attempted ; it is therefore our duty to be prepared and determined at every hazard to vindicate the injured honor of our Navy, and revive the drooping spirits of the Nation. Influenced by these considerations it is expected, that, while you conduct the force under your command, consistently with the principles of a strict & upright neutrality, you are to maintain & support at any risk & cost the dignity of your Flag, and that offering yourself no unjust aggression, you are to submit to none, not even a menace or threat from a force not materially your superior." Etc.

From the letter of January 22, 1811, we quote :--

"I hear not without great concern that the Law prohibiting the importation of slaves has been violated in frequent instances near St. Mary's, since the Gun-Boats have been drawn from that station.

"We are bound by Law, by the obligation of humanity & sound policy, to use our most strenuous efforts to restram this disgraceful traffic, & to bring those who shall be found engaged in it, to those forfeitures & punishments, which are by Law prescribed for such offences. You will therefore use all practicable diligence in enforcing the Law, prohibiting the importation of slaves, passed March 2, 1807, entitled 'An Act to prohibit the importation of slaves into any port, or place within the jurisdiction of the United States from and after the first day of January, 1808." Etc.

From the letter of August 28, 1811, we quote :--

"You will expedite, to the utmost in your power, the equipment of the 'Essex' for immediate service.' Push your recruiting, and let me know all your necessary wants, that they may be supplied, and order Lieut. Sinclair to hasten his operations with the 'Nautilus' also." * *

From the letter of September 12, 1812, we quote :--

"I congratulate you, sir, upon your successful cruise; you will, without delay, prepare the 'Essex' for service; she will be furnished with every requisite supply & all necessary repairs made to her.

"The Trophies sent by Lieut. Gamble have been received & will be carefully preserved.

"With respect to the 'Alert,' the President will shortly desire whether he will take her into the public service or not. Could she not be altered so as to make her a good cruiser? & if so at what probable cost.

"All the arms, drums, swords and military stores, that you have taken during your cruize, that may be in good order, or that may be conveniently put in good order, will be purchased by the Navy Department at a fair valuation, be pleased to have an Inventory of them made out & let them be valued by two disinterested competent judges & transmit such inventory and valuation to me, when an order will be given with respect to their disposal."

Relics of General Washington.

Antique Mahogany Sideboard, with circular fronts, closets in base, for furnishing opposite corners of a room.

Antique Mahogany Chair.

The above two pieces of furniture were purchased at the sale of the effects of John Augustine Washington, who inherited them from Bushrod Washington, who inherited them from General George Washington. At the death of Bushrod Washington, John Augustine Washington came into possession of Mount Vernon, with all its effects; he afterwards sold Mount Vernon to the association now occupying that historic place, and moved to another section of Virginia, where, at his death, the sale took place at which these pieces of furniture were purchased.
